Property Description

Two master bedrooms and one guest bedroom are all situated in different wings of this property... but all under one roof! Wet season or dry, you are going to feel snug and secure all year round in this well-designed home for function and comfort. There are numerous spaces to tuck yourself away in this beautiful retreat, situated only 600 meters from the highway and minutes away from nearby towns and local hotspots. Despite its close proximity, this property feels like your own private getaway, surrounded by primary rainforest and overlooking the lush river valleys below and the vastness of the Pacific Ocean. Sunsets from November to March are incredible! Río Terraba and Caño Island can be seen from your pool while you laze the day away. And if the urge strikes, the pool is long enough (nearly 40 feet) for lap swimming. The freshwater infinity pool comes with the very unique feature of a dining table in the pool for cool entertaining on those hot summer days.
