Property Description

Driving up to this mountain side home for sale in Ojochal, you will immediately feel welcomed by the gorgeously inviting landscape. Leave the car in the covered car port that takes you directly into the home, or onto the covered terrace that faces the stunning mountain view that is famous of Ojochal. There might be ocean views in the Southern Zone that beat what you can get in Ojochal, however there is no connection to the incredible mountain and valley view at this three bed room family estate. Unique in design, this house resembles the Country French-style homes of the north-east Great Lakes region. One story in structure with intricate wood detailing, there is something quite European in the flow of the home, and the many varied locations for hosting your parties visitors. Stepping into the house through the main door, you are welcomed by a mosaic of colourful flooring tiles that lead you to the large, open living room connected to a sitting space.
