Property Description

This luxury beach home is located in the last, unpopulated farm in Manuel Antonio, and is a jewel. The views are spectacular-- the dramatic Manuel Antonio coastline, with rainforested hills and sudden cliffs, and the coastline stretching up north past Isla Damas. Not only does it have views, but unlike most view-oriented homes in Manuel Antonio, it is just a few minutes walk to a cove beach so private that you can spend the entire day there without seeing another person. The home features a floating bridge entryway over an 'amphitheatre' style water element. The home is built in three levels providing ample room for families or friends to share in space, but also to have great privacy when desired. The top level of the home which is where the garage and main entry level are, hosts an enormous open floor plan kitchen, living and dining area with terraces and gardens surrounding all sides of the home.
